

Earlier on this year, Michael and a few others from ALT travelled down to Sligo to help out at an Outdoor centre for a few weeks. It was hard work, but everyone had a lot of fun, especially on the water. Here are a few photos.

Using a tractor we were able to bring down a large paddle boat onto the lake.

"Believe me, my young friend, there is NOTHING--absolute nothing--half so much worth doing as simply messing about in boats. Simply messing." - Mr Toad.

If the paddle boat just seems like too much work, then being pulled about on the rubber ring is probably more your idea of fun.

A fool on the jet-ski is worth two in the water, or so the saying goes.

Hold on tight! Unfortunately even on water, we still have to obey the laws of gravity. Especially if the mass of the two bodies in question is a bit too much for the rubber ring to cope with!

The jet-ski also serves as an essential tool for sea rescue. It is fast, and some can carry up to three or more passengers.
